

LESSON #5: 5 Ways to Listen to God

Sunday Evening Sermon by Ray Reynolds
March 11, 2018

INTRODUCTION: The Bible has much to say about listening and hearing. Jesus says, “He who has ears to hear” over a dozen times! This is said in the Gospels and in the Revelation of John. I am convinced that many today do not appreciate the importance of listening. We know that hearing someone is important, and essential for good communication, but we often fail to listen up! In this series I want to consider things to help us become better listeners. In this lesson we will discuss 5 ways to listen to God. Let’s study together....

DISCUSSION:

I. Listening in Personal Bible Study

Romans 10:17, II Timothy 2:15,
Psalm 119:105, Joshua 1:8

II. Listening in Family Bible Study

II Timothy 1:5, 3:14-17,
Deuteronomy 11:19, Proverbs 22:6

III. Listening in Corporate Bible Study

Acts 17:11, Hebrews 4:1-2,
Luke 24:25-27, Psalm 19:7-11

IV. Listening in Worship

Romans 10:14, 15:4, Matthew 4:4,
I Timothy 4:13

V. Listening in Daily Living

Ezekiel 33:30-32, Isaiah 6:9,
James 1:22-25, Psalm 19:1

CONCLUSION: I want to close by reading Psalm 95:1-7. When we stop listening to God terrible things will happen. Listening to God is very important (Isaiah 35:5, 55:2-3, Romans 10:17), but it is also very important to listen to others (Romans 10:14, James 1:19). Jesus emphasized the need to listen throughout His ministry. Listening is good for the soul. Do you have an attentive ear to those around you (Acts 15:12)? Are you listening to the Lord (Luke 9:35)? Are you obeying His Word (Luke 6:46)? It is time to listen up!
